year will be better than ever. We moved the event to Roosevelt University’s Murray-Green Library so we could be in another iconic location in the historic Auditorium Building, as well as allow for more players” said Auditorium Theatre Auxiliary Board Chair Dillon Goodson. “Moreover, Hands Together, Heart to Art™ is a program that touches everyone’s heart, so we’re excited to host an event where people will have a good time in a cool space while supporting a great cause.”

Prizes will be awarded to the three highest-scoring teams, and guests can purchase raffle tickets for a chance to win a variety of more brag-worthy prizes.
